

Senior Security Sales

immediately or by arrangement, 80-100% (m / f)

We are looking for a motivated Senior Security Sales to join our innovative team.

What awaits you

- You are driving sales for our modern Security Operations Center and Microsoft based Security Solutions
- You plan and coordinate customer requests independently
- You have the possibility to develop new and improve managed services with the team
- Ongoing further education - we aim to offer our customers the latest technologies
- You work from home or in Co-Working Spaces or at the customer's office

What we expect

- Knowledge of Microsoft Cloud Technologies, such as Microsoft Defender, Azure Defender and Azure Sentinel (Level 100-200)
- You are familiar with key IT-Security topics like information security governance, incident management, risk management and experienced in discussions with experts
- You have at least 5 years of sales experience
- You are a team player, but you also like to work on your own
- You have good communication and networking skills in German and English

baseVISION as a company

A future-oriented activity in an innovative company with a dynamic, young team. You will take on a lot of personal responsibility and contribute your own ideas.

A large scope of action with a lot of variety will enable you to develop continuously. You can expect modern employment conditions as well as the possibility to work mobile and from home. At baseVISION almost everything is possible.

For a successful entry

Is this just the right challenge for you? Then we are looking forward to your application. Please send your CV including motivation letter to Dania Werren (administration@basevision.ch). We are looking forward to getting to know you.